Five StarsBy Customerokay0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. NiceBy Saoirse9999Well done book. Probably the only book that exists on Irish Wade pottery.Since my sister collects it, I decided it would be a god Christmas gift. She was pleasedand it helps her with her collection and new purchases.

This fifth book in the authors' popular World of Wade series features highly collectible ceramic products made by the Irish Wade pottery from the early 1950s through 1990. Over 540 color photographs depict extensive giftware lines, including tankards, tableware, decanters, ashtrays, miscellaneous giftware, and the highly collectible leprechauns, fairy folk, and Irish Song Figures. A concise history of the pottery and a comprehensive section on backstamps and mold marks will help collectors learn about dating Irish Wade items. Also illustrated are products made by Seagoe Ceramics that were marketed under the Wade brand name in the early 1990s. All pieces illustrated have suggested values in both dollars and English pounds. This book is a must for all serious and novice collectors of Irish Wade.

About the Author Ian Warner and Mike Posgay live in Toronto. While working as an architect, Ian developed a strong interest in collecting and studying pottery and glassware of the 20th century. Mike, a bacteriologist, collects head vase planters, Fenton art glass, Czechoslovakian art glass and, of course, Wade pottery and porcelain.
